

1981

The Comment, February 12, 1981

Bridgewater State College

Volume 55

Number 3

---

Recommended Citation

Bridgewater State College. (1981). The Comment, February 12, 1981. 55(3).

Retrieved from: <http://vc.bridgew.edu/comment/504>

This item is available as part of Virtual Commons, the open-access institutional repository of Bridgewater State University, Bridgewater, Massachusetts.

The Comment

Lincoln Collection Presented to Maxwell Library, pg. 3

Volume LV, No. 3

Bridgewater State College

February 12, 1981

The Bookstore Behind the Bindings

by Lisa Gonsalves

If you happen to be one of the many students on Bridgewater Campus who are very upset about the bookstore's policies then this article is for you. One of our staff members Julie Tompkins had the same concerns as many of you and a question and answer session was set up between herself and the Manager of the bookstore Donald Con-drey. Many of the students main concerns were answered to at this meeting. First of all, the bookstore's return policy was discussed. Many students complain about this policy stating that they should be able to return a book no matter what. But, the bookstore return policy, was created specifically to protect the students, the administration, and the bookstore itself all equally. Unknown to many students, is the fact that the student body itself helped to create the return policy. Four and a half years ago, the students, the administration, and the bookstore held a combined meeting to draw up the policy that is now being used. And since this policy is no longer satisfying the customers, a new return policy is being considered at this time.

Julie Tompkins then asked exactly how does the return policy protect the student. In many ways, for example, some students try to bring books from the Catholic book exchange and sell them back to the bookstore. This is one main reason why a receipt is needed. Many students do not understand this policy, but, how many times can you bring back an article of clothing that was bought on sale? With or without the receipt, it is a final sale-the same goes for used books. Another way in which the return policy protects the students is with the case of a stolen book, and it does happen. There is a pending judicial case going on now, involving a book that was stolen last year. If the bookstore did not demand to see a receipt, then these sort of things would go unpunished.

If students would only keep their receipts, and return the books within a reasonable time, then the bookstore would gladly take the book back. By a reasonable time, 24 hours is the most desired, especially with used books. Another thing that students forget is the fact that the bookstore is a business that has to survive just like any other business.

If a student brings a book back beyond 24 hours then the store has lost a chance to sell that book. They will then have to try and sell that book back to the publisher and some publishers will not take back their books. If the store has loses the opportunity to sell that book then the chances are, especially if that book is a used one, that the student will not be able to return it.

Also, the bookstore must return the books to the publishers after about two weeks so they cannot take books back after the drop-add period because the publishers no longer want them. The bookstore cannot be subjective. Students must remember that the return policy was made (with their help) to fit the majority- the flexibility is for the minority. And the store does exercise flexibility-they ask questions in every case and they often violate their own rules and regulations. On the question of flexibility, the bookstore asks, "how flexible can we be". They must keep the store going. The store definitely uses flexibility in the first two weeks, but after this they must question you.

(continued on pg. 2)

... Bringing
Senator Proxmire to this campus was certainly not wasteful spending ...

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CAMPUS

by Chris Openshaw

Recently, a great number of students here on the Bridgewater campus have begun to wonder if there will ever again be organized social gatherings that will include them. Under-twenty year olds: when was the last time you attended a gathering that included all ages? How many times have you seen a poster advertising something you'd like to attend but couldn't because "a Bridgewater ID and Mass. Licence is required"? Are you bored with dorm-room parties where you have to worry about hiding your beer? Did you ever wonder if anyone here at Bridgewater can have an organized social gathering without alcohol?

The discrimination begins in the most obvious place on campus: the Rathskellar. Granted, the Rathskellar has made a recent effort to allow under-twenty year olds to watch movies on the big screen. However, they do not serve alcohol to anyone during these movies. Does it sound like reverse discrimination? It is. Why can't the Rathskellar take the responsibility of checking ID's inside the bar? Even the stamping of twenty-year olds hands outside the door and serving only those with stamped hands is possible. Everyone must admit that it is ridiculous that under-twenty year olds cannot so much as enter the Rat to order take-out pizza. After all, if the Rat could arrange something to that under-twenty year olds could go in to eat and socialize it would be to their benefit.

Secondly, it has been discovered that the Student Union plans to have events such as dances in the ballroom that will only include those who can drink. In other words, under-twenty year olds, what we once had, we no longer have. Student Union Activity dues were just raised, and under-twenty year olds are not invited to these activities. What's so wrong with having the bar partitioned off during these dances? It seemed to work out well before. The under-twenty year olds here on campus should be able to attend these gatherings without any problems.

In my opinion, it comes down to this: if the under-twenty year olds can't attend any gatherings, their time will be spent doing things they are not supposed to. The campus authorities worry about dorm vandalism, destruction, and drinking of alcohol by the under-twenty year olds. Perhaps if they had something better to do these things would not happen.

For some of us, it's going to be a long time until we are twenty years old. Do you want to wait that long to socialize?

The Bells of Boyden Hall

by Louise R. Burke

Have you been walking through campus, or sitting in class, this semester, and heard bells? No, you haven't been studying too hard. The carillon in Boyden Hall is working again.

Built around 1928, Boyden Hall started chiming the hours and half-hours in the late 1950's. Originally located behind the stage in the Horace Mann Auditorium, the electronic mechanism became damaged by curious people who wanted to see how it worked. Adding to the problem, neighbors began lodging complaints that the chimes were disturbing them. This led to a restriction in its' use; however, the damage to the unit was so extensive that in 1972 the chimes ended.

When reconstruction was begun on Boyden Hall in October 1979, Schulmerich Co., the original makers of the carillon, were called to make the necessary repairs. At this time, the mechanism was relocated to the former balcony area where it would be secure from damage.

There are actually no bells, but an electronic chime system. It has a keyboard for direct playing, and it can be programmed, similar to a player piano, to play any song while unattended.

The original plans called for completion of the project before Christmas of 1980, so carols could be played; unfortunately, it wasn't finished until January of 1981. On January 20th, the day of the hostages release, Prof. Achille Joyal was heard across the campus playing "My Country 'Tis of Thee". The Alma Mater will be heard on Commencement Day (May 30th), and carols are predicted for this Christmas. A tradition has been restored to BSC.

by Gil Bliss

"Big government's" most diligent watchdog made a lecture appearance here Tuesday in the person of Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wisc.), famed through his monthly awarding of the "Golden Fleece," which highlights the most outrageous example of wasteful spending by the government. Bringing Senator Proxmire to our campus was certainly not wasteful spending on the part of the S.U. Program Committee, as they saved $2000 on the non-appearance of former UN Ambassador Andrew Young, and gave the students an opportunity to hear one of the most important voices in the modern Senate. Not that Young would have given a poor talk, it's just that it is doubtful that he could have improved proportionally with the fee increase.

Senator Proxmire arrived at the college fresh from an appearance on Channel 5's Good Day show, and proceeded to deliver a thought-provoking one-hour talk based on inflation. He noted that modern day inflation has the characteristic that prices keep rising right on through a recession, whereas recession used to be considered a cure for inflation. He stated that the best regulator is a competitive economic system, something that is scarce today because of the many monopolies dominating our economy. After a cursory nod towards the oil companies' contributions to our problems, Proxmire turned to his forte, government over-spending. It would be less effective to go on without citing various Proxmire Fleece awards, so here's a few of his favorites: $84,000 for finding out why people fall in love; $27,000 to find out why prisoners escape from jail; the Department of Agriculture spent thousands to find out how to relieve boredom in pregnant pigs (Proxmire suggests taking them to a movie); and his favorite, $103,000 spent by the government to find out why sunfish that drink tequila are more aggressive than sunfish that drink gin. I kid you not. Senator Proxmire asserted that this type of thinking would be of good use on the campus in trying to find a football field for the Quad 8. The fame of the Quad 8 spreads far and wide, apparently.

Proxmire proceeded over the course of his talk to speak in favor of increased military spending, although the funds should be channeled in the right way. Weapon systems should be less complicated and more efficient, and increased emphasis should be placed on upgrading military pay, as the US is spending millions in training, only to lose its investment to private enterprise. Proxmire also spoke against large spending on secondary and elementary education, citing that the more government puts in, the more the SAT scores go down.

The Senator concluded with a 20 minute question and answer period, during which he fielded questions ranging from the grain embargo (in favor) to Republican control of the Senate (not in favor) to a fine query posed by BSC Financial Aid Director Dave Morwick concerning government assistance to lower-income college students (the only time that Proxmire exhibited distinct politicians' traits).

The price of the college lecture circuit has skyrocketed along with everything else in the last few years, and it's too bad that someone of Senator William Proxmire's stature has become too expensive to have on more than an occasional basis.

Commentary

Drs. Rhoda and Phil Adendron Speak Out

The following commentary is written in the hopes of provoking thought rather than offending any individuals. The writers admit that they, too, belong to cliques but prefer to remain anonymous out of a fear of physical abuse.

Do you break out into a cold sweat when you are without your friends? Do you feel extremely nervous in new situations? Are you afraid to go to eat dinner alone? Do you lack the ability to come up with an original thought?

If you exhibit any of these symptoms, it is safe to assume that you are suffering from cliquitis. You must be reminded that this is a psychological disorder and to this day there have been very few fatalities because of it. A clique is a small, exclusive group of people who share the same thoughts, ideas, interests, and possibly dress. In viewing this particular campus, one may perceive many cliques that could be categorized under academic, financial, and social in orientation. One may feel that women tend to form cliques more often than men. But, one must also be aware that there are more women on this campus than men. Perhaps it is the stereotyping of roles that causes females to identify themselves with groups more so than the "independent" males.

Academic cliques are observable everywhere and quite distinct since there are often clubs associated with them. Students within certain majors tend to "hang" together since they have common interests and knowledge. Through observations, you may discover that certain majors group themselves with other majors. (For example, one may find certain groupings under the general heading of the Sciences.) Similarities in interests and thought is the reason for this phenomenon. Academic cliques may dress alike as well if they are involved in studies, work, or extra-curricular activities that demand a certain type of dress. (For example, Physical Education majors—sweatsuits and sneakers). All can be considered 'victims of cliquitis if that is the only group they associate with.

Another category is the financial cliques. The only way they can be detected on the surface is if they openly display their economic status. Some groups that "hang" together because they are on a certain economic level include; "The Fancy Car Clique," "The LaCoste Clique," "The Designer Jeans Clique," "The Maybelline Stockholders Clique," and others. These groups are related and assimilate because they feel cliques may be found among; workers and non-workers. Here the day-to-day close contact among workers tends to bring them together. day close contact among workers tends to bring them together. Nonworkers form cliques when they are the only ones left to socialize with at certain times when their other friends are working.

Another category can be formed on the basis of people's social behavior. Here, we note that it is virtually impossible to avoid creating a clique as it is in our nature to be social beings. In looking at the campus, virtually all clubs and organizations are cliques. Within one club there can be several smaller cliques. One may find people breaking into two groups; old members and new members. This is only one of the many intraclasses which may exist. These people are drawn together out of a need to share a particular interest or hobby. Other social factors which may contribute to the forming of cliques include; drugs, partying habits (1. Every night, 2. Thurs/Fri/Sat, 3. Once a week 4. Once a year, 5. Never, 6. On-campus-go-to-all-events, 7. In-town group), age, athletic ability, intellectual ability, and previous social background (such as the "High-School-Carry-overs," and "Woodstock Throwbacks."). Social cliques are very often formed out of convenience. One large division can be seen between the dorm students and commuting students. These two major groups can also be broken down into several subgroups. This is probably due to the fact that one person can only keep up with so many friends, hence the typically small sizes of cliques.

We would like to suggest possible solutions. Perhaps you don't even want a solution. That is your choice. Keep in mind that you are here, supposedly, to learn. One major source of learning is through other people. How can you learn anything new if you don't force yourself to go out and meet new people outside of your small group of friends. Perhaps you could try doing new things and discovering new interests. This can lead to the making of new friends which is important in learning and becoming open to new ideas. We're not suggesting that old friends be dropped, but rather that new ones be added. One major thing to avoid it trying to change your new friends to make them just like your old friends. New associations can help you discover more about yourself. Don't be afraid to express your individuality!!! Good luck.

(continued from pg. 1)

Another question that was discussed during the interview was "how are the books priced"? Many students feel that the bookstore is out to get their money by charging unreasonable prices for books. This is farthest from the truth, because the bookstore has no control over the prices. The publishers tell them how much the books will cost. Contrary to the rumors, the bookstore has a very low profit margin—only 23%. As far as the prices of used books are concerned, the store is not permitted to charge more than 25% of the retail price for used books. The bookstore works just as hard to save the students money as it does to sell books. An example of the bookstore's fairness was seen when a mistake was made where they sold many copies of one book for $26.25, when it really cost $19.95. The Manager called the professor and gave the students their $6.00 refund. The students must understand that the bookstore has a captive audience to sell their product too only in the first two weeks of school—unlike other stores that have a captive audience year round.

The last thing discussed during the question and answer session with the bookstore were the many rumors that have been circulating about the bookstore's policies. One of the main rumors discussed was one dealing with the professors. Many students believe that the bookstore offers to give a free copy of a book to the professors who order a new book every semester. This is not the bookstore's doing at all, it happens with the publishers. It is a policy called the "desk copy" and it is used as an advertising trick by the publishers, and as the students know-it works. What the students must remember is that this is not the bookstore doing. Many professors try to consider the students' expenses by purchasing paperbacks. But English is one of the only majors that can afford to do this

by Danny Hall

Do you know what is happening at the Hill these days? Well one of the biggest issues to spring up at the Hill in recent weeks was the firing or dismissal of GRA, Frank Fontaine. The main issue isn't why Mr. Fontaine was fired but it is student reaction. A petition circulating the halls with a magnitude of over 400 names, has once again caused havoc at the Hill.

The petition was established by a group of students to show Student Housing Authorities that they were rather delinquent in dismissing Mr. Fontaine from his position at the hill.

When the Housing Authorities were asked their reasons for dismissing Mr. Fontaine, they could not answer. "Mr. Fontaine is still a student here and we must protect those rights." They went on to say that dismissing Mr. Fontaine was rather difficult because he had excellent rapport with the people on his floor and also that they themselves had built a very close relationship with Frank. The petition has been circulating since last week and has received wide popularity.

Although sources say that many of the students were coerced into signing the petition. In interviewing some of the students who signed the petition, a few didn't know who Frank was or where he worked in the dorm. Nevertheless, 400 names is quite an accomplishment. However, sources from the Student Housing offices say that the petition will not have any bearing on their decision. "I don't care if there were 4000 names on that petition it would not have any bearing on my decision."

Other repercussions have occurred because of the firing and the petition. Other RA's and GRA's have been indirectly blamed for the firing. Damage to property as well as threats to the RA's have been given by students.

We had the opportunity to ask Frank about his dismissal. He believes that the problem arose because of the varied philosophies. Frank had an "open door policy" at the Hill. He felt very comfortable letting students, at their will, come down and talk to him. He likes the policy and did very well with the kids using it. Unfortunately, he felt that the Housing Authorities believed that he lacked the authority to be a GRA. Frank was never an authoritarian and he admits it. He also stresses that in order to be an effective GRA you have to adapt to your surrounding. At the Hill, adapting to your surroundings is very difficult and that makes the job tough. Frank is a lot older than most students, so he tried to be himself instead of having a title level with the students.

I asked Frank if they ever offered him the job again, would he go back. Frank said, "If I could go back to my same floor with the same students, yes, but next year, no, I couldn't work for the Student Housing Department again."

This is not the last we will hear about Frank Fontaine's dismissal. Frank believes that, "There is a lot that happens in the dormitory, that Student Housing is not aware of and that they will never be aware of. There are things I could deal with that they couldn't."

Many students feel it will be a long time before Student Housing finds another GRA that will be as effective with the students as Frank was. The petition, as well as students' voiced opinions, have shown that Frank was once an important figure in the growing saga of the Great Hill Dorms and will be sorely missed.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am writing in reference to a letter in your February 5 edition of your paper concerning the evaluation and selection of coaches for Bridgewater State athletic teams. My knowledge in this area is only in relation to the women's teams so I will address that area.

All coaching positions are posted in various newspapers and applications are sent through the proper channels at Bridgewater State; from this interviews are held and coaches

Dear Sir:

I am greatly disturbed that kids are trampling over the old peoples' lawn to get to class, but I am not surprised that they do. This type of activity began several football seasons ago with faculty stomping across the quadrangle in search of long bombs thrown by aging jock-professors. The group I refer to is the Quad 8. These supposedly fun-loving educators think nothing of killing grass plants in the quest of developing a thirst for their ample beer consumption.

In conclusion, I think the Quad 8 should take an active role in trying to repair the old peoples' lawn, or at least post their football-built bodies to block the path. Come on, guys, we know that you have more civic responsibility than just selling raffle tickets. Help clean up the mess you started.

Disgustedly yours,
George Blanda
Durgin Hall

are then selected for the various positions. At the end of the season all athletes are given the option to fill out a form "Student Appraisal of Coaching." This form includes 16 categories including "knowledge of sport," "analysis of sport," "communication with team members" and coaches may be judged on a scale of 1-9 with the various numerical ratings explained.

This evaluation form is much more extensive and realistic than the evaluation form that we use for professors. I personally would prefer a more comprehensive evaluation form for professors. In conjunction with this, I know of professors that have received poor evaluations and retained their positions — more so than coaches.

In all fairness to the Physical Education Department and the athletic program at Bridgewater State, any concerns with coaches should be directed to the Director of Women's Athletics. Any athlete who has participated in the program at Bridgewater realizes that there are proper channels to go through to register legitimate complaints. Unfortunately too many people listen to other people's views and neglect to discover for themselves exactly what is available to them. Neither coaches nor athletes should be prejudged in relation to their abilities.

Sincerely,
Donna Eddy
BSC Student

The Comment

Editor-in-Chief .....	Richard Pickering
Managing Editor .....	Gil Bliss
Production Manager .....	Lynn R. Haffner
News Editor .....	Lisa Gonsalves
Entertainment Editor .....	Lynn R. Haffner
Sports Editor .....	John Sullivan
Photography Editor .....	Joe Downey
Graphic Arts Editor .....	Margaret Flaherty
Business Manager .....	Carol Beers
Advertising Manager .....	Louise R. Burke
Distribution Manager .....	Position Available
Office Manager .....	Peggy O'Toole
Contributing Editor .....	Sue Asci
	Julie Girard
	Daniel Hall
	Joe McDonald
	Ginny Studley

Writing Staff: Michael Butzgy, Terri Cooney, Paulette D'Angelo, Sharon Donahue, Julie Girard, Barbara Glauben, Betsy Hanson, Joe McDonald, Chris Openshaw, Ginny Studley

Art Staff: Jim Cooke, Margaret Flaherty, Diane Formisani, Doreen Greeley, Lorena Kelley, Michael Macdonald, Peggy O'Toole, Rocco Rizza, Juli Tompkins, Steve Wesley

Photography Staff: Joe Downey, Lisa Gonsalves, Lynn R. Haffner, Joe McDonald, Cathy Olsen, Juli Tompkins

Production Staff: Martha Anderson, Sheila Brennan, Susan Brennan, "Buckles" Buckley, Richard Lucier

The Comment is a student supported and operated weekly newspaper serving the academic community of Bridgewater State College. Editorial policy is determined by the Editor-in-Chief in Consultation with the Editorial Board. Re-publication of all material herein is prohibited without the expressed written permission of the Editor-in-Chief. All materials submitted become the property of The Comment. Letters to the Editor are encouraged but may be limited to 250 words or less. Letters, classified advertisements and all other written materials are subject to condensation. Advertising rates are available upon request. All correspondence should be addressed to The Comment, Student Union Building, Bridgewater State College, Bridgewater, MA 02324. Telephone: (617)697-8321, extension 260 or 304.

Announcements

LOST AND FOUND

Currency found inside the entrance of the Science Building. Come to room S324 and ID or call 330.

MEETING HOURS

The Christian Science College Organization meets weekly on Tuesday afternoons at 4:00 in the Conference Room 4 of the SU Building. All are welcome!

ENVIRONMENTAL INTERN PROGRAM

A 12 week Paid position for upper level undergraduates and graduate students interested in environmentally related fields. Most majors at Bridgewater State are eligible to apply. Applicants must have completed 5 semesters of College. These positions are located throughout New England with a variety of organizations. Deadline to apply is March 2, 1981.

WANTED!

Students to work during the Spring Break (March 9-March 20). Work will involve cleaning and light office work in the Student Union Building. All interested should see Dot in the Director's Office before February 27, 1981. Work study preferred.

STUDENT TEACHING ABROAD

All students interested in student teaching abroad and study abroad should meet in the Council Chambers (2nd floor, Student Union) on Thursday, February 26, 1981 from 10:00 am to 12:00 noon for a general information session. Dr. Robert Freyermuth from the Center for International Education and Dr. Robert L. Mogilnicki will review sites and procedures for application. Individual conferences will be held from 1:00 pm to 2:00 pm.

ATTENTION!!!

On Monday February 2nd at approximately 10:00 a student fell from the back stairway in the Union. If you saw the accident or know anyone who knows anything about it please contact D. Barreiros-Ext 307 or N. Collier Ext 381. This is an extremely important matter.

STUDENT UNION CALENDAR

The Dating Game will take place Feb 12-8 pm in the SU Aud. Pianist Jeff Cabral will appear as TGIF entertainment in the Rat on Feb 13-4-7pm. Honey and Lemon will appear as TGIF entertainment on Friday-Feb 27. Also on the 27th in the Rat from 9-1am with be the band "Riding High".

ATTENTION EDUCATION MAJORS

The Early Childhood Association will be meeting Tuesday, February 17th at 11:00 am in SU-1. This is a general meeting for new and old members and activities for this semester will be discussed. All you need is yourself and a bright idea or two.

CAREER CONFERENCE FOR WOMEN CONSIDERING LAW

On Saturday, Feb. 21, Western New England College in Springfield, MA to attend, you must reserve a place. Call (413) 782-3111 or write to: School of Law, Western New England College, Springfield, MA 01119. Springfield is approximately 2 hours from Bridgewater in western Massachusetts. More information is available at the Career Planning and Placement Office.

FEDERAL SUMMER INTERN PROGRAM

Last summer BSC had an intern in the Washington, DC Office of Personnel Management. This year we have been asked by the US Dept. of Justice and ACTION to submit nominees for their summer '81 internships in Washington, DC. The academic departments and agency they will nominate for are given below with their contact person:

US Dept. of Justice: Political Science (Junior or graduating Senior) Dr. Michael Kryzaneck. Industrial Psychology (Junior or graduating Senior) Dr. Ruth Hannon.

ACTION: Sociology/Anthropology (graduating Senior) Dr. Abraham Thomas or Dr. Clay Greene.

Students must apply through their department and complete required forms in order to be considered. All materials must be in by spring break (March 6). Notification of selection will be around April 20. If interested, contact one of the faculty listed above as soon as possible.

SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS

Applications for undergraduate scholarships to be awarded at Honors' Day and Alumni Day in May will be made available on or after February 11, 1981. Applications will be made available in the Financial Aid Office, Office of Student Services and Student Union Information Booth. For information regarding specific scholarship criteria see the new Dimensions Student Handbook, page 28 and watch for announcements in the Comment.

YEARBOOK ORDER FORMS

Yearbook order forms will now be available at the info booth. Order your yearbook now; a lasting record of you and your friends at BSC Yearbooks will be mailed out in August 81. Yearbooks-they are not just for Seniors anymore! Cost: $10 including postage.

ATTENTION SENIORS

This is the last call to order cap and gowns for Commencement Exercises in May. Orders will be accepted through March 6. You may place your order in the Office of Student Services in the Student Union, across from the Info Booth.

TOP CASH PAID FOR UNWANTED GOLD AND SILVER

Jewelry, Class Rings, Dental Gold, Sterling, Old Coins, Mercury, Diamonds, Silver Dollars
3% MORE WITH THIS AD

Every sunday at the Country Place Flea Market
Rt 24 & 44W at South St.
J. Russo & S. Mickevich

Booth No. 250 Licenced Dealers C212

Lincoln Collection Presented to Maxwell Library

Two collections of Lincoln books and periodicals were presented to the Clement C. Maxwell Library of Bridgewater State at the Annual Lincoln's birthday meeting of the Lincoln Group of Boston, held Saturday 7 at the college.

Dr. Owen T.P. McGowan of Fall River, Bridgewater director of library services, introduced Mr. and Mrs. Howard T. Oedel of Cheshire, Connecticut and Attorney and Mrs. Frank Williams of Hope Valley, Rhode Island, members of the Lincoln Group, who presented collections of 1400 and 250 items respectively to the library. They were accepted by Dr. Adrian Rondileau, college president.

Special Lincoln bookplates have been designed for the collection by Gloucester artist John Manship. The Oedel plate is a Lincoln portrait and the Williams plate depicts Lincoln as an attorney. Dr.

Jordan Fiore, Head of the Division of Social Sciences at Bridgewater spoke at the program and announced that Lincoln exhibits will be mounted throughout the library. They will include a display of photographs taken by Robert and Sylvia Larson of the Bridgewater faculty for an article, "New England Remembers Mr. Lincoln," in the current issue of the Lincoln Herald.

NBC's Kent State Docudrama Included Factual Errors

by Bill Gordon

(CPS)--Sticklers for accuracy should have a field day dissecting the docudrama "Kent State," which NBC aired February 8. Although Interplanetary Productions, which produced the show, went to the trouble of annotating the script--apparently in anticipation of heavy criticism--some of the citations didn't check out.

A thorough reading of the script uncovered some 38 factual errors, though 14 were eventually edited out of the version televised in the United States. A four-hour version, which was also screened for American television critics in Los Angeles, will be shown in foreign countries, presumably with all the errors included.

Most of the errors in recounting the events before and on May 4, 1970, when Ohio National Guardsmen killed four and wounded nine other people gathered at Kent State University to protest the American invasion of Cambodia, were fairly minor.

Between two of the subsequent victims--Jeff Miller and Sandy Scheuer--is implied to the impossibly quiet interlude of an on-duty Guardsman playing a guitar.

The needs of dramatic license provided the most entertaining fictions of the presentation. The four-hour version, for example, showed, a dorm counselor's wife at the height of the demonstrations asking her husband, "Can't you forget the revolution for an hour? Come home to lunch. I'll serve my Ho Chi Minh Tuna Surprise."

More serious were the surviving fictions that could fundamentally alter the public's perception of what took place that weekend in Kent.

The script, for instance, shows six "radicals" setting fire to the campus ROTC building, thus providing Ohio officials with a motive for using force against the demonstrating students.

In fact, no one has ever been able to establish who set the fire. The campus "radicals" themselves contend they have no idea who the arsonists were, and others have suggested the fire was deliberately set by someone anxious to provide a pretext for using force against the protesters.

The script also showed Guardsmen huddling before they were involved in plotting the shooting, something even the most avid conspiracy theorists would not allege.

The dramatic conveniences of having the victims meet the Guardsmen who later would kill them, and of suggesting the Guardsmen staring down their sights at the protesters were actually angry also distorts the nature of the tragedy.

The film, moreover, understated the mood and size of the student crowd. The number of protesters shown own in the movie was significantly lower than the number who actually confronted the National Guard in 1970.

The movie also showed a crowd that was considerably less provocative than the real one had been. According to the show, the demonstrators did not throw many rocks at the Guardsmen. In reality, there were a lot of rocks pitched at them.

Yet it was not the producers fault that the scenery did not always look convincing. Kent State President Brage Golding refused to let the crew film on his campus.

Even if he had, things might have looked different. Kent State has since built a new gymnasium on the site of the killings.

during which he defended the film's authenticity. He dismissed most criticisms by saying that what really counted was that the show illustrated that innocent kids had been killed.

GOTSHALK'S

and Side by Side

Broad St. (Route 18) Bridgewater Center...697-4446

A WISE AND CONVENIENT PLACE TO SHOP FOR ACTION CLOTHING AND FOOTWEAR!

D.C.'s

Nike

Dingo

Baracuta

Thom McAn

Minnetonka
moccasins

Jordache

Levi's
JEANSWEAR

Chic Jeans

Sassoon

Dickies

Classifieds

Kymbies-Happy Valentine's day to my favorite roommate! Hope your day is filled with lots of love and happiness. Love, Lisa WBIM (The Best In Music) is als! the "Best in Men". Bill, Rick, Mark C., Mark T., Neil, Peter G., Peter P., Paul L., Paul N., Fred, rich, Jerry, Jim, Joe, Leo, Gene, Tom, George, Kevin R., John M. To the "Boys in Music"--Happy Valentine's Day!!!

Soap in Rm. 20-What happened today? Pretty intense on Thursday. I had a good time Judy. I got the pin in Alicia. The Cape at 9:30, here we go Eddie. Very philosophical huh, Mary Ellen. Have a Happy Valentine's Day! D.Don

Hug-A-Bug- I'll love you forever with all my heart! Happy Valentine's Day! Snug-A-Bug

Hug-A-Bug: Only 3 weeks till our West Virginia vacation, yeah! Kisses and hugs from me to you! Snug-A-Bug

Mush pot- We have no yesterdays; time took them away, tomorrows may not be, but we have today! Happy Valentine's Day. Love, Linda LoveLace

P.E. Hope you have a happy Valentine's Day! From the night prowler. Guess who? GH

Dad; Keep this to your very own self, but you can play with my belly buddin' if you have nutin' else to do. Ownt know, I think I hear a knock at my window. Don't forget, phone interruptions, tickle spots and don't forget I'll always be in love with you, never let the blues get the best of you. Happy Valentine's Day, The Brat

Phil, Happy Valentine's Day! I love you. Love, your blue snowball.

To 98 pounds, to my favorite Math teacher. Thanks for all your help. Hey if you don't stop pulling my hair I'm going to tell my mom. Why do you keep getting prank phone calls, I wonder. Well, keep smiling and Happy Valentine's Day. The girl next door.

Notice: The Bookstore will begin to make book returns to publishers on 2/17/81

Happy Valentine's Day to my roomies. (We're the balls.) Please clean the room. Love, your favorite roomie

Happy Valentine's Day "Sybil", Happy Valentine's Day Catherine, Happy Valentine's Day Marcia, Happy Valentine's Day Cynthia, Happy Valentine's Day Melissa, Happy Valentine's Day Suzanne, Happy Valentine's Day John, Happy Valentine's Day Betsy-and the rest, Love your Friends, Me

T.J.M.-Happy Valentine's Day and Happy Anniversary! I love you. M.J.H.

Green Eyes- How are you doing babe? Blue eyes is thinking of you. 4 years is coming up! "Machine Gun"

To my guy with the muscles-Times have been hard but nothing a flaky puff and a little kiss can't solve. Will you be my valentine? Love you. XOXO 2-81

To my sexy huskie-Hi ya Hon! I am really looking forward to that hockey game...we're going to have a great time. these past nine months (almost a whole year!!) have been so special...that's because you're so special...Here's to us...I love you! Sneakie

Swiftly, are you a fag or a swimmer? Want me to deal the next game- you can trust me!!! You really should control your drinking so you don't have to be carried so often. All I can say is if you can't handle the cans don't try the pitchers you lightweight!

Turner, you Burnout! Let's play egg toss and remember-Give with it! HA! I beat you in caps onca again even with Hibby as a partner-thanks for the backboard. And always watch out for hitchhikers with white robes. They're gonna get ya!!!

Smuggler's Notch-Missy Oh, Shelly, will the real Joe Barry Farrell please sit down. Vitamin M for 2 skiers. Mike picked up a rose in the middle winter. Gomesy wipes out but in the parking lot. Tunes on the way home, Barry Manilow, Elvis Presley, or Roger Whitiker.

Dear Lauri-143 Forever, PLD, 69 Love, Me

Fred, Brontosaurus omelets and a nap or two start out every day just right! I'll always love you, Wilma

Hey E.B. Happy V.D. Day. Couldn't let that go by- it being your holiday and all. Glad you got early classes so you can make them all. You know, I knew that net was gonna fall. You're a definite no. 4 in my book. You're corrupting fluff slowly and I don't like it- not one bit. Beek

Roseanne, You've got a catchy accent-good bait for intriguing fish and/or pumpkins. Seen any savages at din-din lately? Have you seen - ah- Eugene and his pink bunny lately, if you did were either one of them standing? How about a game of wandering group fish? Catcha - u - lata! Kora

Happy Valentine's Day to my Lamby Chop. Love, your Sow Bucket

Roxy- It's been a weird year, thanks for helping me through it. Can't wait for my present! Hope you like yours. Rotate your tires. Love, Paddington

To Fred and Barney-You two handsome big guys are too much. Those pictures on your wall are really wild, especially the ones of the dog that can fetch sticks. Slim, do you think you can stand another summer with all those girls hanging on you? And Pat, watchout, you're wasting away to nothing on that diet. R

Mitsie-Happy Valentine's Day! I know this one will be the best because I'll be sharing it with you. Love, Tim Roses are red, Violets are blue, If I could put my girl on stilts, she could play basketball too!

Hey Red-say what I said-that's the BREAKS. Happy Birthday-Freeport '79 Fan Club

Heh, Glacierface, You have a beak like a hawk, but do something about those claws. What a difference in a year from Sasoon to sweats. Your shoes were once in style but the pilgrim era is out. We heard you played a major role in the movie, The Shaggy Dog. B.B., E.B., F.B., B.F.

Notice: The Bookstore will begin to make book returns to publishers on 2/17/81

Paul, This Valentine's Day will be the best yet, because even though we've shared two, this will be our first together, instead of miles apart. Thanks, best buddy, for putting so much love and life into every day. Love always and forever, Me. Hey, is it to late to give each other Christmas presents? Never...

To my favorite bird lover. I was reading My Mother, My Self, and realized how much I miss you! Please, Please, Be my Valentine! Happy Valentine's Day, Thue! ORANGES UNITE!

To F.R. (C.L.), I guess it is time for the world to know that I love you. Be my valentine forever. Marry me because I love to ski on your bunny hills. It gives me frog skin. Love always and forever, "Enchie"

M&M- Have a great day!!!

To the six pack. Well gang, it was fun while it lasted. To the leader of the pack-you're the Best! Let's all get together and go to the Rat some night. We'll give "Sparkle Shine" a whole new meaning. Thanks for making my senior year even more memorable. Love, Jeannie

Lost: One Lonely Heart. Found at Daiker's Flowers in a Valentines "Luv" Bundle. Central Sq., Bridgewater

To Tom C. in my Calc. class, (9-MWF); Looking good! Your secret admirer. P.S. Got any secrets I could admire?

To my tail on 18, Sorry I didn't notice you. Where do I leave my answers?

Dean, have you hidden in any nice closets lately?? Love, D.

To the B.S.C. RUGBY TEAM—Happy Valentines Day RUGGERS! I'm psyched for this season! Let's go wild, I'm ready to bang heads. You guys are the best on campus! I'm ready to sing and drink. How are your vocal cords? Drink up! Why were you born so beautiful? Why were you born at all? Here we go...Guess who? P.S. Your mother's in love with a chainsaw!

Notice: The Bookstore will begin to make book returns to publishers on 2/17/81

To BABA-Ready for another "P" party. Next time B.Y.O.P. Better lock yourself in your room, so you don't have any accidents. What's so funny behind those walls? I'm wondering why the "do not disturb" sign is up in the afternoon. Are you trying to tell me something. Pope weewends live on. Love Pegasus

To Caca-Hey, thanks for the "P" party. Really enjoyed the first one, have to do it again real soon. Watch out for that wild man you met at Larry's, could be a mean biter. Looking forward to many more wild weekends. Thanks for all the great times. Love Pegasus

Pegasus-Are you up for another "P" party with us? I thought you'd never try it, now you can't even get enough. Can't wait for the weekend-what will it be this time? Don't laugh at me, I'll need your mirror. Hey I heard of your early morning scheme-don't try it. Love CaCa

Bubba...Sorry for all the screams in the night but my dreams are so alive, "was there a sale last week?" Just don't move my stairway to heaven-I might fall. Is mono mouth feeling better? Don't spread it bananas...Have a piece of freshen up and let it pop. Love CaCa

I LOVE YOU PAULA! My love is beyond measure, but I know it is bigger today than yesterday, and it is growing all the time. This world was never meant for one as beautiful as you. xoxoxoxoxoxo 100% yours-Michael

To all you rags on number one Shea-Happy V.D. you alcoholics! I love you all. signed SRA

Dear Mike-I want to wish you a Happy Valentine's Day and let you know that I have been thinking of you. Love, Denise

2/11/81. HAPPY 20TH BIRTHDAY JOE PERREHULT

To TBND, Happy Valentine's Day and Happy Birthday. I didn't forget you, buddy and don't think I ever will. How's Ralph doing these days? Swiftly says you're a lightweight. Bye Buddy - TGND

Maureen F. Please be my roommate, I love your body. Love "K"

Carmel the horny carp- Happy Valentine's Day-our second as roommates! Hope Fosterface is good to you! Me

N.J.A. - So you fly down the hills with the greatest of ease? You're quite a mogul jumper, plus you ski backwards, too- you Hot Dog! By the way, you only went 2 weeks without; I've gone 4 weeks with only 2 left. Stay off your can. Jean-Claude Chicken Legs

Dear Judy Cakes-I've been longing for your body for two years now. I've fantasized about placing a hickey on your neck in the shape of a heart. Please be mine on Valentines Day. Your secret and frustrated admirer.

John: You make early morning square dancing classes worth it!

Happy Valentines Day to all my favorite guys; Ray, Don, Bill, Mike, Allan F., Allan T., Frank, D.B., Scott, Richard, Steve, Joe, Lars, David, Karl, Bob, Dan, Wayne, Mike R., and Doc. Love, Laurie.

Dear Globe Deliverer; Keep dropping by every morning and keeping me up to date. Oh, yes. Don't forget to bring the Globe, too. Lisa Marie-221

L.T. of 1c-We really don't get together enough anymore. Why don't we? Brian

Linda-I know where I'm going. If you want to come along, you're invited. I really enjoy your company. Love Brian Beth, You've brought me a lot of happiness and always cheer me up with your smile. I do love you and hope you have a happy Valentine's day.

Hey, One-Shot-Happy Valentine's Day. It's been a great year and four months. Hope we can keep up the good work. If you bait your rod, remember I've got a fish all ready for you. Love you, Fishmarket Annie

Barbara-Happy Valentine's Day! The date is significant. It's been fun in the past few months and it will get better. Mansion Madness will continue. I hope we make it to FLA. and back. Take care and stay away from the Becks. Love, Samari Trucker

To my favorite Valentines; L.P., A.T., J.R., K.B., B.M., D.C., M.N., Happy Valentines Day, Love you all- Pebbles

Hey Ponch, Jon, and Jannie-Pooh- You better rest up over March break-you'll need it. We're up for a rematch!! Ya, we're bad. Townsend Investigations

To Barbie-Happy ValentinesDay, with all my love, Ken

Notice: The Bookstore will begin to make book returns to publishers on 2/17/81

Frank-Happy Valentine's Day. Love always and forever, Debbie

To Jackie B., Sue, Kathy, Arlene- without a doubt you're the only girls whose personalities match their looks...in a word, you're all beautiful. W.K.A.

Babe-Happy Valentine's Day. Why is Austria so far away? I love you. Me

To the third world teddy bear, S & M on sundays? Must be Grateful Dead! You're the man with' the inside scoop. What's the name of your inflatable doll? Well it's off to college. Signed, the Nerfs

Happy Valentine's Day to all the Sunday Student Union job stations employees. You make every day a Valentine's Day. Thanks Smitty

To the E.T., Gift suggestions for our favorite couple are; for the groom-to-be, a Mr. Microphone, for the bride-to-be, a knife sharpener. Gift Suggestions, Inc.

Hey Bo Wong, I like that kinky hairdo. Is it a reflection of your personality? Ted

Hey Raputa, Let down your long golden locks and let them get entangled in a little fur. Go for the gusto! Ted

Cathy, you're my kind of person. Love ya! Pete

Bear-Happy VD Day...Pete

Vicious-Did you hear the joke about the five pens? Happy Valentines Day...love D.W.

Diane, Sorry 'bout Saturday night. Trust me! My intentions were honorable. Let me make it up to you-Joe Paulette-Your beau must be a lucky guy. Wish it was me. Love the feathers. They make you look twice as pretty as you normally do. Happy VD Day-(You owe me an article). Love ya, Joe

To the red bomber-I hope you have a nice Valentine's day and maybe that blue-eyed blond from breakfast will be your valentine. Guess Who?

Life in the quiet world-Have a happy V.D. You too Norge,Squeak,Twinkles and the rest of the crew. D.J. 6-9 p.m.

TREZ,MARY AND DEB-Oh, you girls think you're so funny. We haven't seen the room 90 trio at too many parties lately. I want all three of you to be my personal Valentine. Signed the big Mr. XI!

To the mind's inner eye, Blind to the world or self, Dance,Dance with Chaos. To turn so fast,all seems still.

Rudy B.-Happy Valentine's Day! Happy 20th too. What an appropriate day for you to be born on. The true romantic. It's almost time for an annual celebration,can you believe it? Lucky me! Thanks for everything you do for me. Love you Scoop "T"

"Barty", You knew I'd lose the bet didn't you! I challenge you to a rematch! Love you,Scoop "T"

Notice: The Bookstore will begin to make book returns to publishers on 2/17/81

To Our Roommate Patty, Happy Valentine's Day! From the GIRLS in 1205. P.S.,We love you just the way you are, so don't go changing.

To Doreen L., Yes I think you're sexy! Yes, I want your body! Yes I want your red juicy lips! Yes, I want you to BE MY VALENTINE!!!!Will you????

To my Mamaluca, I want to wish you a Happy Valentine's Day!!I have a feeling this one will definitely be definitely be HAPPY! I love you with all my heart!!!Limpby

To George Mitsaris, Remember our agreement! You should have read the fine print. Oh la la! You're even sweeter than the candy you sell. Luv ya! Signed,"The employee"

Robin,Mike,Kim, Carolyn,kColleen,John and Mary-Here's the personal you've been waiting for!You guys are the best friends in the whole world. I'll never forget you. Thanks for everything. Love you all!! Karen

Happy Hearts Day to all of us in the Cafe. This semester should be "worth risking yer life fer"! Such that...We'll have good times at Larry's,Ralph's, Julio's, the Rat...and the like. Never stop striving for the Big O! The Chick with the furry gloves

E.B.-Your holiday is just around the corner-V.D. Day. Gee, I'm sorry for picking on you but I know you love the attention. Thanks for the smushed cookie on the door and the powder in my hair but all of us can't have premature graying, so don't push it.

Lorraine dearest,it is relatively my honor to be writing you this personal. You're a really swell person and you didn't think I knew how to be kind! You're such a well educated one knowing all the countries in Europe! What's a glacier? Yes I know dear that one was a toughie-Well enjoy your semester, honey and remember E.B. makes me relatively SICK!!

Dewey and Lewey-Alias Chip and Dale, "Help me Jane", T.T.F.W., S.A.M., "Strap it", M.F.,Dallas Alice, Ginnie-may and Rodger, Dixie Chicken and all the others, You guys are the best. Waaa. Love, Hewey. Happy Valentine's Day!!

Happy Valentine's Day to Jeff,John, Mike,Tom,Cliff,Chris, or whichever one your are; come late, leave early and bring your shovel. If you lose, you get the pillow and the back porch, but you're always a winner to me- and of course I'll respect you in the morning. Luv, Carls Gal, J.K.

Chris-Violets aren't red, and roses aren't blue, but after my birthday I'll still keep you. Thank you for all the wonderful times you've made,the little things and all the smiles. More to come if you'll keep me. With much love,your Bratte xoxo

George-Happy V.D. "dear" and many more to come! It's so much fun having you as my "fav". Hope it's like this for a long, long time. "What do you get when you cross a wild Greek and a crazy Irish girl?" I don't know but it's great! Love You-
Barbara Jean

Happy Valentine's Day honey-The last 17 months and 7 days have been the best of my life! I love you--the Tango Kid

Artie-I hope that you are as happy on this Valentine's Day as I was last year. Thanks for the 9 plus months that made me the happiest I ever was. 1-4-3-

Robyn, Happy Valentine's Day to a sweetheart of a roommate. Love, Lori

Roses are red, Violet are Blue-Mike Nickley, if you didn't look like floppy, I might want to go out with you. Brenda

Mary, Happy Valentine's Day! You are the greatest. Thanks for being my Valentine. I love you more than anything in this world. I'm so glad we can spend this Valentine's Day together. I'm so glad we're together forever. I love you, Steve Holland

Ivor, will you be my valentine? Hugs and Kisses, Miss Frito

Hi there Mar-Would you like to be my Valentine? Please, I'll give you a dollar. You mean the world to me. Let's always be together. Two years ago Cupid hit me with that everlasting arrow. I love you kid-me and you forever. Stubbs

Happy Valentine's Day to the cafeteria crowd with the hottest hearts on campus. Let's all go and get shattered in the Rat, then do something really kinky with inanimate objects. Signed, Twinkly Blue Eyes

Mike R.-Happy Belated Birthday-Thanks again for your help with the tire even though the car fell. It's nice to know that there are still some gentlemen left. Deb

To K.A.T.H.-2/9/81... 11:10-found out these were due at noon, 11:30-still pondering, 11:45-sweating, 11:50 panicking, 11:55-Happy Valentine...love, Bill

To Joanne no middle name Sylvia, Have a Happy Valentine's Day. I love you. M. Alexander

Hey Jude-Can you take a dictation please? You domesticated thing you. Happy Valentine's Day.

For the Arts Magazine staff: Fifty words? That's all the words I get to tell you how much you mean to me?? Tee-hee!! It'll be a good issue, one to be proud of, thanks to all of you. When it's over, let's have a mean Twister game. Little Lynn Roses are red and violets are blue, Jeff Metra-If you were to get a new hair cut, I might go out with you.

Notice: The Bookstore will begin to make book returns to publishers on 2/17/81

To the person with the L.P. Traveling in the Commuter Cafeteria, Friday the 13th could be your lucky day. Signed-a secret admirer. If feelings are mutual, wink!

Steve, will you be my valentine? Ann This time with feeling! Happy Valentine's Day. Do you think you could stand a forever? I love you, Louise.

David, Happy Valentine's Day to my one and only for now and forever. I love you! --Laura

To the fried rice eater, I'm hungry, so well take my car, because your car has no heat or brakes and it's ugly! I get over misunderstandings very quickly so come over and visit. I promise my roommate won't dance to 'fame' or eat chicken livers, and I won't beat you up. I might even play New York, New York. --Your future roommate.

To Princess Jayne Jagger (the enchantress with the magic touch): MUCHO DINERO to you on Valentine's Day (& every day). See you east of eden. Love, a Future Heir.

To Margarita: Happy Valentine's Day! I wish you a low phone bill and forthcoming days of moderation. Love, Florida-Bound in March.

To Carol: Happy Valentine's Day! With Love. --From those Swinging Guys from Liverpool (George, Paul, Ringo, & John).

Lucy, I will love you forever. I hope that we will soon be together. --Blue Bunny

Hey Baby Beals, Nice shoes you got there. Remember that ring counts as two gifts. Swifty says, "Once a fag, always a fag!" You lazy sow--Teenage Wasteland. We heard it's your birthday--Jan. 15. You prep you. You're one sick pup. You're definitely losing it. Bye, Bucky. Love, The Beek.

Laura, Valentine's Day is representative of you. You're bright, sweet and beautiful. Let's make this Valentine's Day a good one. Happy Valentine's Day. Love always, David.

Rub, Space, Dandy; Uncle Mad Dog, Twin, and Uncle Dave: Thanks for serenading me to sleep Sunday night, but the men in the white coats are still coming for all of you. Happy Valentine's Day. Love, Lizzie Borden.

Mini-Guinea: Is my wife behaving? Buddy LaRues' here we come! Let's "fall" up to the apartments. Chop suey at 3 o'clock in the morning? Yowza, baw, baw, baw! How's Scrumps? See you in Bloomington. Love, from your husband.

Dear Coach K., You're a super person that I'm happy to have met. I truly wish you a Great Valentine's Day and only wish I was part of it. Have a good one! Love, Audi Fox.

Hey! Puppy-you'll never make it through six weeks of agony. OFF the walls yet? Best of luck anyway. Hope you drown in a sea of beer. WIMP

Notice: The Bookstore will begin to make book returns to publishers on 2/17/81

"Pup Tents" and the Ridge, B.B. & Kens, Buddies forever. What can I say, Thanks for the Saturdays, mind your Toes. Love ya. --Your Sat. Nite Lover!!!

Don Johnson actually reads the personals?

Beals: Are you listening? No, I didn't think so. This week special: orange coffee, this time you get the sugar. Do you have any fascinating trivia for me? Can you repeat that, you always do. I know you owe me $1, but I don't really care, so why bring it up.

Hey Ted! ('Nooge'), Any recent news about hit & runs? I hear it's moose season! I can hardly wait for the long weekend-Party Hearty indeed (oky-fine)? Horses, booze, and BCs. I'm psyched!!! Thanks for inviting me. Your wango. P.S., Irish isn't a language (for real)?

Lisa & Lee, Here is your first personal, personal. I heard about your first time. I hope it was great. When will I ghet to show you my stuff? Soon, I hope. --Your Secret Admirer.

To the Wood Hall Flashers, We're screamin' for that one-eyed "T" snake and that Big Daddy Disco Dong up at Heartbreak Hotel! Sensuously, TLS.

To Marg, in '79--we hear you're SCREAMEN' to blow some bubbles. Go for that prize! --Radical Freshmen.

Page all anyone who catches Janine Manzi drinking beer or indulging in any alcoholic beverages whatsoever wins one free case of beer. Keep your eyes open Wood! Contest ends February 28.

Maharajas--sorry, but I can't read, Puss-Puss. P.S., I can't write either.

Joanne, I'll be damned if I wrote you a personal but a Ray of hope shown and I got in the groove so will you be my Valentine? The Shadow knows.

To my Puerto Rican Friend: Hope your 20th Birthday brings you all the happiness you want. Have a great day and remember--now you are mature!

Coach Klu, How's your cat? Hope you had an excellent 22nd birthday. You're getting better! Love ya! --Me.

Notice: The Bookstore will begin to make book returns to publishers on 2/17/81

Patrice M. Where are you? I'm still here. --M.F.

C.K., Cupid has hit! I'd love to get to know you, cause I love those dance techniques. Happy Valentine's Day. --The T.V. Star

Hey Roomie: I've arranged for a truck carrying kegs of Mich Lite to hit someone between now and February 28. Don't cross without looking both ways!

To My Brother Buddy, Happy Valentine's Day! I think you're terrific.

Bob, this time with feeling! Happy Valentines Day. Do you think you could stand a forever? I love you Louise.

Twin, I thought I'd be nice and send you your first B.S.C. personal. Is it a Love Thing and are you full of fire? I think so, Lets go to Japan and find out! Happy Valentines Day. Love Sister Joe.

Betsy, Thanks for being so kind to me on my Birthday. No one could ask for a better friend than you. Have the best Valentines Day. Love always Your Best Friend.

3Dear Herman Munster, Don't forget the good times, I never will. And by the way...Oh Never Mind. Ha Ha!

Hey Thumper, How are ya ,Wee-Bee- Jee-Bee, Honky ya Take care kid. Your favorite flounder.

Buckles, Thanks for the Champagne-- You shouldn't have. Have the best Valentines Day Ever. Thanks Again Lisa.

T.D. I must be losing my "Detective" touch because I don't know where you've been hiding out these days., Your a real stranger. I hope it's not like that rest of the semester because I'd really like to see you. Come up and visit again. J. (p.s. have a Happy Valentines Day)

Looking for a band which needs a lead singer. Interested in all types of music. Contact Lisa Marie Menn in 221 Shea Hall, ext.373.

Smugglers Notch Lets not try to break any more ski poles. We need more goat skin bags to go around. Who's that person with a hole in his goggles? If you barf it will cost you $ 10. Who changed those signs around. Thanks for the red cheeks. Hurry Cardo.

To Marianne-I still love you-Steve 3To Hobby, Locke or is it -----? When are we going for some chichi's again? Next time I'll wear my black seam nylons, ok? Rumor has it you've been losing sleep lately. Yor really should try to solve that little "problem". Happy Valentines Day.

To Gene, T 4th floor Durgin THANK YOU.

Cutie Belink! Be my Valentine I love you. You're the best snuggler in the world. Feshy Raaaah! I love you with all of my heart forever and ever. You are my one and only Valentine Mark. I love you so much Lisa.

For rent-- half room for female--includes kitchen and living room privileges. Close to college phone 697-7697.

Richard: We know that you hate personals containing "Happy Valentines Day" so we won't fall into that holiday trap. All your friends and fans at the Comment just want to say, "Go for it!"

Janet-Roses are red, violets are blue, The next round of beers and pepperoni pizza are on you. Spice is nice and sugar is sweet. How long will it be till the next time we meet? Happy Valentine's Day-Rick.

Well if we had the Black Plague to write about like Boccaccio, Lynn and I might be successful writers! "Who is Salvatati?" the question remains unanswered. Where can I find Bruni on a Saturday night?

Susan: Have you found anyone to train yet who are as strange as the Comment kids? We miss you and by the way--can you tell me why the buffer is flashing red and green? Your students Leetha: Bet this is your first personal. Jeff and I miss having lunch in the formal dining room at your table, and all the fun we had making omelettes. Two Denver omelettes, two teas.

To Katharine Anne Porter: Why didn't you write your autobiography when you were still alive and kicking? It would have made my job a lot easier. Well, I guess you would have spent twenty years rewriting it, and then, of course, you'd have to write about the twenty years you spent rewriting ... PS. Richard wonders if you consider Truman Capote an American Woman Writer ...

Lynn, Thanks.

Jeff, Thanks.

To: M.D.S.V. Happy Valentine's Day! Thank you for making this Valentine's Day the best one yet! You're my everything hon...I love you! (How I ever got you as my Valentine, I'll never know. . .but thank God for miracles! Love, Bonita

Dear Don, This will be my happiest Valentine's Day because we'll be together. Love, Maureen.

Happy Valentine's Day to my dear sweet roomies DeeDee, Sue La, Susie, Joanne, Cath, Bob, Ed, Dave. Love & kisses. --M.

Mo, what a great road trip to UMass! We'll have to do it again, only next time we'll knock down that Blue Wall! Your Partner in Crime.

Room 84 Wood announces the engagement of roomie Carolyn to poster man of the month Jimmy. What a hunk. (Ther diamond not Jimmy). We wish you both the best of everything cupcake. --Cilla & Lisa.

From the Boys, We want Palo back, save the RAs. Machine Gun wants the job. --Big Guy.

Notice: The Bookstore will begin to make book returns to publishers on 2/17/81

Brian Gaylord: Are you really the greatest living writer?...How about serializing The Arts Magazine Story?...Did you really write Hamlet, Prince of Barrington?...Bee-I-Bo...

Lynn: By Jove, Hedda, you don't really MEAN that! Of course I'll by you a thoroughbred: it was part of the bargain...People don't really DO things like that!... Hot apple cider, I say!... Rick and Who?...Do you have any tea, coffee, cider, WATER?...Thanks, Sweetie. I can't wait for Juno, and for The Importance of Being Earnest, and for March 21.

Lynn: When in disgrace with fortune and men's eyes/I all alone beweep my outcast state...Haply (and happily), I think on thee.

Oh my, my, my.

Paul Bowdoin? Bewdin? Bouden? Happy Valentine's Day from Chaplis, Vintage 1979.

Pick, I've always relied on the kindness of strangers... Caddy smelled like trees... Miranda trapped in collision... Is phoenix Jacksons grandson really dead?...

Notice: The Bookstore will begin to make book returns to publishers on 2/17/81

Dominic: You are so cute! Behind that beard, I know that there is something (but what there is I can't tell). Happy Valentines Day--Love, Barb.

Tim-Thanks for opening my eyes and heart. Whenever you need a friend just call my name-Lisa

Paul-Happy 23rd Birthday and a most happy Valentines Day. The past year and nine months have been the best, and the rest of our lives will be the same. I love you, always-Toni

Mon Sherri-Vous soi les tu a? La leche shake par vous. In such a way that I think you are cute and sexy and you make me happy when I am with you. xxooxx JS

Betsy-How can you eat plain yogurt? The stuff looks like refined phlegm! An SLA.

To Joe-Your mama wants two dollars in food stamps to get your daddy out of jail for Valentines Day-Cold B

To J.B.-Happy Valentines Day. I have liked you for a while and will probably keep on liking you. I do not know why you are not talking to me but I hope you will start talking to me again. Your-V.P.

AGAWAM HALF MOON WILD GOOSE NAMEQUOIT

The Second Annual Summer Job Recruiting Day will be held on Wednesday, February 25, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in the Ballroom of the Student Union. Here is your great opportunity to interview and explore a variety of exciting summer jobs with over 45 organizations. (We expect close to 55 on the day of the event). These organizations are mostly camps, and are located in Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, New York, and Connecticut.

The positions available are many and varied: waterfront, counselors, arts and crafts, drama, nature studies, special events, recreation, and many others.

All majors with or without prior summer camp experience are welcome and encouraged to talk with representative from prospective employers! Many camps weren't able to make it. As a service to them, a special table will be set up with their applications and information.

This event is being co-sponsored by the Financial Aid Office and the Career Planning and Placement Office. For more information on the day and participants, contact either office.

Mary A. Reilly
Michelle C. Rice
Nancy J. Richardson
David W. Roderick
Joanne P. Rowinski
Christopher G. Ruyan
Patricia L. Ryder
Nancy A. Sampson
Patricia L. Santin
Barbara J. Sawyer
John C. Scott
Susan M. Seminerio
Elizabeth A. Shea
Sandra L. Sorin
Maria L. Sousa
Joanne M. Souza
Stephanie J. Souza
Robert L. Stanley
Arlene C. Stec
Anne L. Stevens
Rita M. Stokinger
Teresa L. Sullivan
Coletter M. Tansey
Judy D. Temple
Kathleen T. Thissell
Paul M. Tonelli
Kathleen M. Toomey
Doreen M. Travers
Jolene M. Tucci
Beth E. Turley
Frances L. Vanasse
Maria Vitale
Joseph C. Wallace
Nancy D. Wallace
John K. Walters
Lori M. Welby
Carole A. West
Paloma L. Wheatley
Susan M. Whitcomb
Mark B. Whitney
Steven P. Winfield
Shirley M. Winnegge
William D. Wood
Michael J. Wright
Gary J. Zina
James R. Beighley
Robert L. Bernhard
Eleanor M. Graham
Kevin Guilfoyle
Jean M. Kedski
Lawrence P. Allen
Maureen E. Walsh
Mary E. Stanton
Nancy B. Okun
Karen J. Moulaison
Marie A. Melanson

THE BUTTON MAN

Entertainment

Rock at 27½

Having a party with TAZ R.F.

by Joe McDonald

This week I'll focus on a new, up and coming local band: TAZ R.F. The group was formed in Newport R.I. and originally consisted of two acoustic guitars, flutes, harmonicas, lap drum and, of course, vocals. At that time, the group was made up of Wayne Ramey and John Braga and were playing under the name of "Wayne and John". Ramey, a 1970 graduate of Southeastern Massachusetts University (S.M.U.) with a B.A. in Humanities and Social Science, taught high school for eight years before joining up with Braga. Braga graduated from S.M.U. in 1974 with a B.S. in Civil Engineering and was a teacher at Nature's Classroom, an environmental education program.

During the summer of 1976, "Wayne and John" frequented such Rhode Island nightspots as Harpo's, One Pelham East, and Bojangle's Pub. In March, 1977, the duo added Tom Khoury on piano and keyboards. Khoury, an S.M.U. graduate with a B.S. in Political Science, had been leading the Tom Khoury Quartet for a number of years. At this time, the official performing name was changed to TAZ R.F.. Dana Ramey, an S.M.U. graduate with a B.A. in Spanish and one time trumpeter for Phase III, was added on bass. For the next year and a half, the group continued on as a quartet.

After performing throughout New England and at the Outrigger, a club in Christianstead, St. Croix in the Virgin Islands, Mark Asciolla, a 1975 graduate of Bristol High School, was added on drums in January of 1979. The group began experimenting with different instruments including electric guitars, saxophones, and a fiddle. They added Bob Rosewell, a Newport Jazz veteran, on tenor sax; Bob Enos, a founding member of the New Viper Review and Channel One who, at one time, played with the Original Platters, was added on trumpet and flugelhorn; and Jim Dillon, a former member of the Rhode Island Philharmonic, on trombone.

On August 11, 1980, the group won the 1980 Battle of the Bands held at Rocky Hill State Fair and Expo. On November 30, the group was a finalist in the 1980 WBRU Rhode Island Rock Hunt. The band placed third, behind The D.C. Tenz and The Words, and received $200 for their efforts. Considering over 95 bands entered the contest, the final placing was admirable. Now the group has released its' first single on the independent CDK label. It's great!

The "A" side Too Damn Smoky is the groups speakout to all those smokers out there. It chugs and bops and hits you hard. It's the kind of song that will make you sing and dance or, at the very least, tap your feet. And when it's over, you want to play it again. And again. City Blues is more in the blues vein but it too, is a winner. The horn section, to use an old line, cuts through the other instruments like a hot knife through butter. If these two songs don't get you moving, then you're dead, but just haven't been buried yet.

The group has played all over (even Bridgewater State College) and if you have a chance, go see them now before they get real famous (ticket prices are expensive when you're famous). They've already played Jimmy Buffet and who knows where they'll end up. Goo luck guys! (Just remember to send me some free backstage passes when you get to Carnegie Hall).

At press time, the fate of TAZ R.F. was not really known. It was announced on Tuesday February 3, that the group had decided to call it quits. Now it seems that many of the group's members wish to continue and only a few want out. Well, all we can do is hope they make a decision that suits the whole group. Maybe, the band can continue with some new blood. Because, after all, talent like this is too good to waste.

Heidi and the Goats NOT JUST FOR THE KIDS

The Children's Theatre at BSC is currently working on the musical production of "Heidi," which was adapted from the Johanna Spyri novel. In the hundred years that have gone by, Heidi has become one of the most loved little girls in all the world's fiction. Her story has been translated into more than 40 languages. "Heidi" remains a figure with which children throughout the world can easily identify. The story takes place in a chalet on an Alm (mountain meadow) near the Swiss village of Hirzel. It deals with the adventures of the young girl Heidi, who having no mother or father, goes to live with her grandfather, only to be separated from him. The story demonstrates how children hold their own against adults and how they stand the test in all kinds of situations.

The cast includes: Diane DiGiampietro as Heidi, the adventurous mountain girl, Bob Mello as Franz, her hermit grandfather, Karl Wiedergott as Peter, the young goat herder, Jean Prall as Clara, Heidi's invalid friend, Frank Whalen as Herr Sesemann, Clara's genteel father, Donald Baillargeon as Professor Weberdorf, Heidi's lovable and absent-minded teacher, Lisa Caron as Fraulein Rottenmeier, the austere and militant housekeeper, Beverly Mulhern as Dete, Heidi's waspish aunt, Raymond Surprenant as Sebastian the butler, and Joe Wallace as the Station Master.

Cast as the villagers are: Lynn Benoit, Denise Cormier, Kevin Roberts, Kerri Rock, Marion Norton, Alan Talbot, Brenda Walsh, Danny Maloney, Ed McDonough, and Kathleen Kinsey.

The show is being directed by Dr. Richard Warye, with musical direction by Carolyn Curtis and choreography by Marion Rocha. It will be presented on March 5 at 10:00 a.m. and March 6 at 10:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. in the Student Union Auditorium. Tickets will be $1.00. There will also be school performances March 5-11. For information and reservations call 697-8321, extension 213.

For an enjoyable and heartwarming experience, come see "Heidi!!"

Altered States

It's Time has come . . . and gone

by Betsy Hanson

Altered States is one of those films that becomes a "critics' film." Its release in late 1980 garnered excellent reviews from many of the most important critics, even making a few "10 Best" lists. It is the type of film a critic could analyze, and since few films are worth the scrutiny, it is no wonder that they pounced on Altered States. It is a film that is well-written, well-acted, and well-directed, but has one flaw that affects the whole perception. It may not have bothered the critics, but it will have an adverse affect upon the general audience.

The underlying theme that pervades this film is the conflict between God and Science in the mind of Dr. Arthur Jessup (William Hurt). As a Harvard professor, Jessup is obsessed with finding man's "original self," and attempts to accomplish this feat through the use of hallucinogenic drugs in conjunction with an "isolation tank." While using science as a means of finding "truth," Jessup never resolves his concepts of God or religion, which reappear during his hallucinations. When Jessup finally realizes his answer, after nearly destroying himself in the process, he returns to a more spiritual conception through the love of his wife (Blair Brown). Altered States takes the view that science is not the answer to all of the mysteries of life, but can become a destructive tool if followed to the point of excluding man's basic moral and emotional needs.

Set within the time period of the late fifties to the middle seventies, Altered States has trouble convincing its audience of its seriousness. While the film is based on actual research, it does not seem plausible if watched from a 1981 perspective. No experiments involving the actual taking of hallucinogenic drugs are done today, since the dangers and effects are already known. Similarly, isolation tank experiments along the same scope have been discontinued. The terror of the unknown that the film tries to generate is nullified since the danger is already passed and forgotten.

Ken Russell and special effects man Brian Ferren have assembled a film that bombards the senses. Effective uses of light and music heighten the film's mood, and make the various effects used seem more spectacular. The film has borrowed heavily from "2001," which may be an indication of how advanced that film was, considering that it is 13 years old.

Altered States is an anachronism. If it were released in 1968, it could be conceived as a "head" movie; something that would appeal to a person under the influence of drugs, but could have enough intellectual statements behind it to keep the thinkers happy. Unfortunately, Altered States is an extremely well-made film which is past its time.

FREE GIFT!!!

GARBER STUDENT SPRING TOURS

One Week to:

Bermuda, Ft. Lauderdale,
Disneyworld, Curacao,
Freeport, Spain, Italy

Weekends to:

Montreal, New York,
Washington

FREE GIFT to the first 500 inquiries.

Write: Garber Travel, 1406
Beacon Street, Brookline, MA
02146 or call (617) 787-0600,
Ext. 300 or 353

P.S. Positions for Campus
Reps still available on selected campuses.

In SU Ballroom

Feb. 19

8:00

JAZZ!!!!

RANDY ROOS BAND

JUNE,

Can't you understand that your happiness
means more to me
than my own.

That's what love
is all about,
that's when you know.
When someone else's feelings mean more to you
than your own,

it's love,

you'll know.

HAPPY VALENTINES DAY

WITH ALL MY LOVE
YOUR HOWIE

Sports

Intramural News

On Wednesday, January 28th the Womens' IM championship basketball game was held at the Kelly Gymnasium. The match up was between the undefeated Confusion Plus and the Wittaker Warriors who also had an impressive regular season with only one loss.

These two evenly matched teams started off to a slow start on the scoring end and zeored in more on defense tactics. At half time the score was Confusion Plus 11, Wittaker Warriors 7. The pep talk at half time apparently got Confusion Plus going because from then on they were in command. Donna Ruseckas showed the audience what kind of players make up the team by pumping in 10 of the 23 points. On the other end Chris Torpey played her heart out for the Warriors scoring six points before fouling out. The final score was Confusion Plus 23-Wittaker Warriors 16.

At this time we would like to thank all the women for participating and a special contrats to the winning team. The winning team consisted of:

Julie Girard
Ginny Studley
Donna Ruseckas
Tish Sheehan
Gale MacAulay
Donna Mazzamuro
Kathy Hibsich
Lisa Gonsalves
Maureen Conroy

On Tuesday February 10 during the free hour 35 Bridgewater affiliated people came out to compete in the Annual Basketball free throw contest in their hopes to attain those ever so popular T-shirts.

There was three divisions-Men's singles, Womens' singles, and Coed pairs, and the competition was fierce in all three of them.

In the Mens' singles, the Irish Patrick McGrady's leg injury didn't harm him at all but rather have him top honors-popping in 24 out of 25 shots. Second place was a tie between John Howard and Bruce Oglive who each shot 23 out of 25.

In the womens singles Donna Ruseckas took the title by competing 18 out of the 25 which gave her just the edge needed. Behind her by one point was Gina Mostrone, JoAnne Freitas and Nancy McKinney.

The coed competition was probably the most exciting with the best of the two divisions pairing up together. The winning twosome was John Howard and Donna Ruseckas whose combined point scored totaled 42 making this a new Bridgewater record. Six points behind this was a tie for second between the pairs of Bruce Oglive and Sandy Comin and JoAnne Freitas and Dean Jorden.

The winners from each division received an IM Championship T-shirt and set their sights on next years competition and some more record breaking.

Rehabilitating the Handicapped Through Sports

by Susan Leoni

Mr. Steven Spinato, a member of the New England Handicapped Sportman Association (NEHSA), was welcomed as the Children's Developmental Clinic's first guest speaker of the spring session on Saturday, February 7th. Mr. Spinato spoke on the subject of "Involvement in Sport as an Effective Means of Rehabilitating the Handicapped."

Mr. Spinato, who is himself a lower limb amputee as a result of a boating accident, stated that the goal of the New England Handicapped Sportsmen's Association is "To get handicapped individuals to feel more comfortable with themselves, their families and their peers."

The New England Handicapped

Sportsmen's Association is, in fact, a non-profit organization whose purpose is to provide physically handicapped persons an opportunity to enjoy more active lives through sports participation. As the guest speaker described the organization, "NEHSA accomplishes its goals first by providing a common group environment so that individuals don't feel quite so conspicuous or ill at ease." He continued, "Secondly, the NEHSA attempts to get people with handicaps (which we like to call inconveniences) to interreact and share in enjoyable outdoor activities with family and friends."

Mr. Spinato spoke about the various methods used in NEHSA programs. He explained that emphasis is placed on physical contact and verbal communication in demonstrating how to actually perform certain activities. In addition, a great deal of time is spent on building confidence of individuals and quite often, effecting changes in individuals attitudes is important, as well.

The NEHSA upon its original creation in 1968, was designed to assist Vietnam Veterans adjust to their handicaps. Mr. Spinato explained that at present the bulk of NEHSA's clients are young children and adults left handicapped by various forms of cancer.

In addition to being a member of the New England Handicapped Sportsman Association, Mr. Spinato is coordinator for Housing for the Handicapped in Massachusetts and a member of the Architectural Barriers Board.

Injuries Hurting Men's Swim Team

The BSC Men's swim team is suffering through another season of frustrations. Their current record of one win and eight losses has been tough to endure because of key men sustaining illnesses or injuries, thus forcing them to swim shorthanded for several meets.

The mermen opened up this season with a win against Clark and a loss to Keene State, then were defeated by Northeastern, Norwich, Brandeis, SMU, Colby, Boston College, and Central Connecticut. They hope to end the downhill slide with a strong showing against Mass. Maritime this coming Saturday afternoon in Buzzard's Bay.

"This year we have a young, inexperienced team that is learning to swim collegiate events," comments veteran BSC swim Coach Joe Yeskewicz, "but we are making slow, steady progress." Mainstays for the Bears so far this season include Scotty Grant, the top scorer, and Mike Piazza, a freshman freestyler with much promise. Following Piazza are Will Cheney and Jim Reagan, with George Cummings, John Barstow, and Bob Stanley rounding out the freshmen. "This is one of the biggest freshman turnouts we've had in several years," comments Coach Yeskewicz, "and they're a group we can build a strong squad with." Upperclassmen include Capt. Paul Larson, a freestyle specialist, seniors include Matt Roche and George Nigro, with junior Butch Buck, and sophomore transfer Steve Quimby. Patti Evangelista is manager of the team.

Last year, the team had several fine performers, but lacked depth because they were a small squad. This year, there are fewer outstanding performers, but the squad is larger. "We hope that next year we can combine some quality talent and get back on track," Coach Yeskewicz noted.

The Bears have one remaining home dual meet on the schedule, when they host old rival Babson on Thursday, Feb. 26. On Sunday, Feb. 22, BSC hosts the Fifth Annual Mass. State College Swim Meet at 1:00 p.m. The meet is open to any undergrad taking a full-time class load at any State College in our system. Warmup is at 12:00 noon, and details are available from Coach Yeskewicz.

Women's Varsity Falls Short

Spectators at Kelly Gymnasium were recently treated to a magnificent performance as the Bridgewater Women's Varsity Basketball met Bentley. Although Bridgewater, now 11-5, put in an excellent effort, they lost to Bentley 63-58.

Early on in the game, Bridgewater came out with an effective press. Guards Tessie Muolo and Karen Croteau were aggressive and broke up Bentley's offense with several steals and jump balls. However, Bentley, led by guards Paula Ayers and Nancy Roundtree kept up their quick pace. Fastbreaking out of the press, Ayers threw some incredible passes and Roundtree set up some basic plays that stunned Bridgewater. As Bridgewater's defense temporarily collapsed, Bentley pulled ahead and led at the half 40-29.

In the second half, Bridgewater pulled their game together. Junior forward Tammy Turner was awesome under the boards, tearing down 19 for the game. Freshman Jody Collicut came alive in the game in the second half. If there was an opening, she was in it-ready to score. She was ripping down the boards along with Turner. Michelle Dineen also put in a good effort for Bridgewater, especially on the defensive end. But, despite their constant battling, Bridgewater could not pull ahead. In the last few minutes of the game, Bridgewater lost their confidence and threw away the ball more times than they held on to it. Although they came within three points they could not stop Bentley from taking the contest.

Collicut was clearly the star of the game for Bridgewater, scoring 29 points and grabbing 15 rebounds. Freshman Alison Fay led for Bentley.

BAIRS NEEDS YOUR HELP

The BAIRS unfortunately lost three members because of their dedication and obligation to their professional internship. Due to our organizational structure that requires two men and two women to serve on each council, we are now searching for three responsible males; two who are needed to serve in the Recreation Council and one to become the new Intramural Council replacement.

The Intramural Council member will be aiding in the in the promotion of the Intramural program on campus for the entire college community. We encourage all ideas that will help us to develop programs in order to meet the needs and interests of the students.

The Council for Recreation provides recreational programs to also meet the needs and interests of students. We have been doing the best possible job to insure variations and enjoyment in all of our activities.

Once again, we are urging any three males with an interest and enthusiasm for these programs on campus who are willing to put a little time and effort to gewt involved in BAIRS.

If you find yourself too busy at this time but would like to hold a BAIRS position for next year, elections will be held early in May!

Please feel free to bring yourself, your questions, and/or ideas down to Candy Kendall in Kelly Gymnasium. Ext 286, or myself room 423 Shea Hall, Ext 375.

Thank you
Nina Roberts
V.P. Recreation Council

SULLY'S CORNER

THE DORK CALLS IT QUILTS! One of the most semi-talented guards in Bridgewater State intramural basketball history decided to end what one basketball critic called, "The best career I've ever known a Dork to have!" Mike Razanese, affectionately called "the Dork" by his teammates, has hung up his Nikes. "After leading my team (the "Out of Shapes") to its glorious 1-4 record last year, anything else would have been anticlimactic!" said Mike from his plush third floor room at Scott Hall. Mike is graduating this year, but his legend will live on here at BSC. A "So Long Dork Cereimonial Dinner" was held at Scott Hall this week and Mike was presented a memorial basketball by his ex-teammates. With a tear in his eye, Mike cried, "You guys are real a-----s!" And so a glorious career, consisting of no points, no rebounds, and no-assists (Mike claims he is a defensive specialist!) has come to a close. So long and best of luck to BSC's beloved Dork!

Another talented individual was honored recently. Dave Cowens, one of the most respected Celtics of all time, had his number (18) raised to the rafters of Boston Garden this weekend. Big Red, who always seemed to play about a foot taller than he really was, certainly deserved this honor. Dave Cowens retired — does anybody else feel old? Seems like he was just drafted out of Florida a few weeks ago!

Speaking of Dave Cowens, his ex-teammates just recently lost three games in a row for the first time in two years. They have plenty of excuses though, with Larry Bird playing hurt and Robert Parish not 100% either. Plus they were on a tough road trip, which didn't help matters any. This experience did show just how fragile the Celtics are though. It's a good thing they didn't lose Bird for an extended period of time, and I shudder to think what would happen if Tiny Archibald should get injured! If Gerald Henderson had to step into the starting line-up, the Celtics would be in deep trouble. The only time Henderson is under control with the ball is when he is shooting free throws. The Celts should definitely be looking for a good back-up ball handling guard. I hear Ronny Perry is available?

—FELLOW STUDENTS—

For Floor, Carpet and General Cleaning CALL:

—Dave Burns—
College Cleaning Service
947-9528

10% OFF with Student ID

"Let us do your dirty work"

BECOME A COLLEGE CAMPUS DEALER

Sell brand name audio & video components. Low prices, high profits. No investment necessary. For details contact: Southern Electronics Distributors, 2125 Mountain Industrial Blvd. Tucker, GA 30084 or CALL Toll Free (800-241-6270) ask for Mr. Kay

DAYTONA BEACH

COMPLETE PACKAGE $129

MARCH 7-14, 14-21, 21-28; APRIL 11-18

PRICE INCLUDES:

- 8 days/7 nights accommodations at International Inn on the beach.
- Exclusive Discount Booklet
- Free admission into International's night club.
- Free live rock band afternoons and evenings.
- Welcome Beach/Pool Party
- Complimentary beers from Adventures In Travel
- Free souvenir sun-visor and flight bag.
- Full program of optional activities, excursions and events.

Limited Space

Act Now

Mail $25.00 Deposit To:

Adventures In Travel
1200 Post Road East
Westport, Conn. 06880

or write or call for brochure and information (203) 226-7421